

Dag van de Fonetiek 2026

vrijdag, 6 november 2026

Kloveniersburgwal 48, Amsterdam

PROGRAMMA

ENTREE
=
GRATIS

09:30 - 10:00	Inloop
10:00 - 10:20	Reduction of Historical Disyllables in Central Kampong Chhnang Cham Patrick Sam-Lazarov
10:20 - 10:40	The Prosodic Organization and Implementation of Weak Function Words in Australian English-speaking Children with Speech Sound Disorder Rui Cai, Paul Boersma, Ivan Yuen, Katherine Demuth, Titia Benders
10:40 - 11:00	A fully Bayesian feature-based phone recognizer Orhun Uluşahin, James McQueen
11:00 - 12:00	Postersessie 1 (met koffie en thee)
12:00 - 12:45	Keynote: Popularization pays: From outreach at festivals via a mobile laboratory to a multimillion euro regional language grant Martijn Wieling
12:45 - 13:00	Algemene Leden Vergadering
13:00 - 14:15	Lunchpauze
14:15 - 14:35	Do Belgians reverse cross-linguistic trends to maintain phonological contrasts? A study of Belgian French final devoicing – Jérémy Genette, Jalal Al-Tamimi
14:35 - 14:55	A quantitative analysis of human corrections to forced alignment and their practical consequences – Cesko Voeten, Nil Akıntürk
14:55 - 15:15	Identifying glides in Haitian Creole's determiner allomorphs Tristan Chopinez
15:15 - 16:15	Postersessie 2 (met koffie en thee)
16:15 - 16:35	Merger or contrast: the distinction between /ɔ/ and /o/ in Paris and Marseille Eva van Kampen, Heather Burnett, Remco Knooihuizen, Alexander Martin
16:35 - 16:55	Speech Sound Errors: Categorical or Gradient? Hugo Quené
17:00 - 18:00	Borrel

Z.o.z. voor postertitels en auteurs

Posterpresentaties (Doorlopend, tussen 11:00 – 12:00 en 15:15 – 16:15)
Investigation of Norwegian tonal accents and intonation among Norwegian bilinguals Shayan Aqdas
The acoustic characteristics of voiced bilabials in Basaá: A three-way contrast of implosives, explosives and nasal elements – William Bordonaro, Titia Benders, Silke Hamann, Rodolphe Maah
Linguistic accommodation between Tunisian and Egyptian Arabic speakers in the diaspora. Tina Bougag
Vowel reduction based on prosodic position in Dutch Tristan Bouverot
A semi-spontaneous Dutch speech dataset for speech enhancement and speech recognition Dimme de Groot, Yuanyuang Zhang, Jorge Martinez, Odette Shcaernborg
Talking to a brick wall? Examining the role of a priori assumptions in computer-directed speech Jurjen de Haan, Khiet Truong
The Role of Social Network Size and Diversity in Vowel Identification in Noise Sarah Kapp, Adriana Hanulíková
Hearing smiles in the crowd: how babble noise shapes smiled speech perception Rong Li, Esther Janse, Dirk Heylen, Khiet Truong
Why can tigers be pigers but babies not dabies? An eye-tracking study investigating the emergence of coronal underspecification in the developing lexicon of 24-months-old Dutch toddlers Giusy Santo, Merel van Goch, Paula Fikkert
LLMs at the Phonetics-Phonology-Orthography Interface Zoe Tholen
Grammar or Grammars? A maximum entropy analysis of loanword adaptation in Shanghainese Meng Zhang